Sign Language of Girl Was Not Insult to Woman

It may have been the hot and clammy weather of the last few days, but it was something that generated a degree of friction amounting to a small neighborhood feud, involving the Smith and Jones families of North Fourth avenue.

Mrs. Smith called upon Mrs. Jones the other morning and stated with considerable heat that 8-year-old Gwendolyn Jones had been addressing her in the Indian sign language, conveying deep disrespect and giving evidence of a serious lack of proper home training.

Gwendolyn was called in. "Mrs. Smith," said Mrs. Jones, "says that you have been insulting her by making signs at her."

"How?" asked Gwendolyn. "Let her show me."

Mrs. Smith accommodately placed the end of her thumb against the point of her nose and wiggled her fingers in the air. "Oh that ain't the way a-tall," cried Gwendolyn; "that ain't the way to do it; I'll show you."

With a snap and standing very upright, she brought the index finger of her right hand to her brow and with a quick downward sweep brought her arm to her side. "That," said Gwendolyn, "is the way the soldiers salute their officers when they want to tell 'em to go to the bad place."

INTEREST GAINING IN ORGANIZATION OF MILITIA IN ARIZONA

Much interest in the reorganization of the state militia is evident in Arizona, as shown by the applications that are coming into the office of Adjutant General Walter S. Ingalls. General approval of the government plan of organizing in this state only units peculiarly adapted to this section is manifest.

The plan for the reorganization of this state is to have here units of cavalry and artillery, in both of which types Arizona has proven herself proficient.

George W. Harben, formerly of the staff of the attorney general, now practicing law in Flagstaff, while in the city yesterday was in consultation with the adjutant general regarding the organization in Flagstaff of a company of field artillery under the leadership of Captain E. M. Robinson.

Captain Robinson was notified a few days ago that the Italian government had bestowed upon him a high decoration for valor in his work at the front. He already has received the distinguished service medal and the croix de guerre.

He is said to have taken over the command of a section after the commanding officer had been sent back wounded and his successor had ordered a retirement, and had held the line for two days, in spite of the fact that he was himself wounded in the head by shrapnel. Captain Robinson is the Western Union manager at Flagstaff.

Among other applications that have been received is one from Capt. E. S. Whickersham for permission to organize a troop of cavalry at Safford.

ORDER COMPANY TO FURNISH POWER TO NEGLECTED SECTION

The Pacific Gas and Electric company has been ordered by the corporation commission to construct lines and furnish electric service in the district comprised between Twelfth and Fourteenth streets on East Madison and East Jackson streets, provided ten or more prospective customers go to the office of the company and sign up an agreement guaranteeing to use the service for two years, and thereby guarantee the company against loss.

The matter came up on complaint of residents of this district that the company refused to serve them, and a hearing was held, in which the company pointed out their contention that the cost of the extensions necessary was too great to be commensurate with the probable return. This contention resulted in the "guarantee before securing service" order.

ARRAIGNED ON CHARGE OF SHEEP STEALING

George Roach, John Newbanks, alias J. J. Newman, and Leonard Owensby, sometimes called Leonard Grimsby, were taken from the county jail in Phoenix yesterday and conducted to Tempe where they were arraigned on a charge of stealing 13 sheep from the ranch in that district on August 21.

Newbanks and Roach pleaded guilty. But Owensby declared he had nothing to do with the depredations. The bond of each was fixed by Justice Cummins at $1,500, and next Friday was set for the preliminary hearing of Owensby.

Following the arraignment the three men were returned to the county jail in Phoenix by Deputies Smith and DeWitt. At a late hour last night none of the three accused men had been able to secure bond.

GRANT MORE TIME FOR POWER LINES

The railroad administration has been granted an extension of time in which to standardize the electrical construction of the plant and lines serving Winslow. The construction is not in accord with the standard construction rules laid down in Order 173 of the corporation commission, but upon representation that the validity of an initiative law, which is still more strict, is being tried out in the courts, the commission granted an extension of time to November 1.

The lines to be reconstructed are the property of the Santa Fe railroad company. The application for extension was filed by the local attorneys for the company, Chalmers, Stahl, Penimore and Logan.

The defendant, who according to the complaint is capable of earning from $125 to $150 a month, has been ordered to appear before Judge Stanford August 29 and show cause why this alimony should not be paid. Mrs. Esselstyn alleges excessive and cruel treatment in her suit.

AGED MAN SAYS TWO ASSAULTED HIM AND HE SUES FOR $5,000

Alleging that he was assaulted, struck down and beaten on the face, then struck with a rope and finally choked, C. C. Dixon, 83 years old, yesterday filed suit for $5,000 damages against W. R. Starnes and Neal Schofield. The assault occurred at the plaintiff's ranch near Liberty August 19, according to the complaint.

Dixon alleges that he was just recovering from illness at the time of the attack; that the two men drove up to his ranch in a wagon, and that Starnes alighted and committed the actual assault. Schofield, Dixon says, sat in the wagon and in violent language encouraged Starnes to assault him further.

WIFE ASKS DIVORCE NAMES ANOTHER

Willie Belle Deavers yesterday in superior court filed suit for divorce against Claude J. Deavers, whom she married in Texas in September, 1907. The plaintiff names a co-respondent, and along with "divers other women, the names of whom are unknown to the plaintiff," Mrs. Deavers asks for an equal division of property estimated to be worth $2,000.

Upon motion of the plaintiff who alleges that she was deserted March 13, 1919, Judge Stanford has ordered the defendant to appear September 6 and show cause why he should not pay $20 a week alimony pending the decision of the divorce suit and $100 as fees for his wife's attorney. The defendant has also been enjoined from selling or removing from the state any of his property, pending further order from the court.
